WELCOME

A HOTEL WITH HEART AND SOUL
A NEW RESTAURANT & BISTRO,
JUNIOR SUITES AND OTHER ROOM CHOICES

On a cold winter's day in 1998 I stopped at the Loch Fyne Hotel en route to the Islay ferry. It was then a small privately owned family hotel which exuded hospitality, but above all I was absolutely captivated by the truly stunning view. A view like this so close to such a picture postcard town as Inveraray is an absolute rarity – we fell in love with everything about it.

Since then, we have been able to bring to the Hotel an extensive Leisure Spa, a new restaurant, junior suites and other room choices. Every addition we have made has been focused on complimenting the sheer beauty of its location and the warmth and character of the original house.

At the Loch Fyne Hotel & Spa we have put our heart and soul into creating a special place within a very special place. We promise to put our heart and soul into making your stay here as memorable as my own first visit.

LOCH FYNE HOTEL

& SPA, INVERARAY

Set in a tranquil and beautiful location, the Loch Fyne Hotel & Spa sits above the shores of the loch from which the hotel takes its name. Relax and unwind in the extensive leisure facilities or simply enjoy the view over Loch Fyne itself.

Free Wi-Fi is available throughout the hotel.

BEDROOMS

Executive rooms with space and convenience and standard rooms with high quality furnishings and fittings. Every room has coffee making facilities, private bathroom, hairdryer and trouser press.

LOCH FYNE BISTRO

With wooden floors and candlelit tables, the Bistro is dressed with traditional earthy touches. Serving a wide choice of food grown, caught and hunted within the area, our menus are split into two main areas: "From the Land" & "From the Loch". We have taken the freshest of ingredients, from the best of producers, then cooked them simply to let the produce shine through.

LOCH VIEW LOUNGE BAR

A great spot for an informal lunch or bar snack. Natural fabrics, cavernous soft leather armchairs blended with rugged stonework and panoramic loch views. A selection of whiskies from the smooth Speyside Macallan to the peaty Lagavulin of Islay.

CLANSMAN RESTAURANT

A log and peat fire glows on cool evenings, tables are set with crisp white linen and the summer taste of fresh Loch Fyne oysters complete the scene. Our food we want to be as simple and natural as possible, we have set menus, local favourites and a range of signature and grill dishes using preferably local and organic produce.

SPA & LEISURE

Our 15 metre pool and Jacuzzi overlooking the loch are adjoined by a sauna & steam room.

The Spa has treatment rooms offering a range of therapies including aromatherapy, European massage, manicures and pedicures.

Our relaxation lounge includes Lloyd Loom wicker recliners and a Japanese Inada physiochair.

IF ONLY THERE WERE ENOUGH TIME TO DO IT ALL...

GOLF

Enjoy preferential rates at Inveraray Golf Club as a guest of the hotel or play one of the many other courses in the area.

ACTIVITIES

Pony-trekking, quad-biking and walking are all available locally or you may just wish to take it easy and explore on your own.

BOATING

Cast a fly or just an eye over Loch Awe on a skippered boat trip or skim across the waters at the Holy Loch Marina on a River Rocket.

HISTORY

Visit the magnificent home of the Dukes of Argyll at Inveraray Castle or the 19th century cells of the living museum at Inveraray Jail.

TOURING

Inveraray sits at the heart of mid-Argyll offering visitors many and varied touring opportunities including Kintyre, Oban and Lorn and the delights of Loch Lomond and the Arrochar Alps.

GARDENS

Inveraray is the perfect base from which to explore the many gardens of Argyll. Crarae showcases a riot of colour throughout the year and Ardkinglas features the 'mightiest conifer in Europe', which dates from 1750.
